

Tapobhumi on Ganges Pride of Varanasi

A few days in the lap of the bountiful Mother Nature, far away from the noise and the buzz of the city sounds. Located on the banks of River Ganges, the aesthetic and cozy cottages, offer you a rustic holiday and events with dwelling experience. Lush green ferns, swaying gently in the cool wind, this place is perfect to experience nature at its best. Admire the dense greenery, a path, adorned with colourful flowers and water fountains lead you to this humble abode.

Accommodation A Tryst with royal comforts amidst nature

Unlike conventional resorts, Tapobhumi on Ganges is designed with special emphasis on the classical Indian philosophy of PANCHABHUTA or the "five essential elements" - bhumi (earth), jala (water), agni (fire), marut (air) and akasha (sky). As such, the 9 spaciouly interspersed cottages amidst the verdant expanse of greenery offers you every imaginable amenity to help your mind and body unwind. To help you experience the real saattvik indian lifestyle, we have a strict no smoking, no alcohol and no non-vegetarian food policy.

Seminars & Weddings make them memorable

Give a new dimension to your corporate seminars at the full-fledged. For the hush-hush, high-intensity brainstorming sessions, The tapobhumi on the Ganges also paves the way for organising unforgettable weddings. Our attention to detail & unmatched catering services are the icing on the cake. For guest lists that run into thousands, we have the outdoor rockery facility with a sprawling green lawn. With cool open air & a star-lit sky, weddings here are surely what dreams are made of.

Ganga Aarati

The aarti is performed on a stage by a group of young pandits, all draped in saffron-colored robes with their puja plates spread out before them. The offering is made to the Goddess Ganga, also affectionately referred to as Maa Ganga, goddess of the holiest river in India. Maa Ganga is believed to have descended from heaven to earth.

In Holy Matrimony

Come get enveloped in the blissful fusion of luxury and nature and let us help you celebrate the most special day in the most spectacular way . With an array of scented seasonal blossoms , harmonious musical tunes of the Shehnai , illuminated lamps shining brightly under the beautiful night sky , delectable gourmet cuisines from across the globe and " attention to detail " service ; We assure you of a tailor made fantasy , with mother nature as your witness .
